When the project is completed, scientists and theologians are hoping they will have an exact duplicate of the man who was at Christ's right hand throughout His ministry.

And what's more important, could the clone have some of Peter's memories intact?

The clone will be created from DNA taken from the late disciple's bones.

Waitress

By ANN VICTORIA / Weekly World News

NEW ORLEANS — In the first-ever lawsuit of its kind, a waitress is suing the restaurant that employs her, asking for $1 million — because she doesn't like the cheap perfume a co-worker wears!

There have been cases in which companies have prevented employees from wearing certain perfumes because of allergies.

But this case is very different.

"I'm not allergic to the perfume and I don't claim to be," says Doris Ambelon, who will bring the lawsuit before a Louisiana civil court in late March. "I simply feel demeaned by having to work in smells like a French house of ill-repute.

"I'm a respectable woman who lives a moral life. When customers come into the restaurant and smell that tawdry scent, they make assumptions about the place. And worse, they make assumptions about me and the other waitresses here."

"I've asked her to stop wearing it but she won't."

ress who wears the offending scent. But she says she'll be asking the court to award her $500,000 for pain and suffering and another $500,000 in punitive damages.

As bizarre as the idea sounds, some legal experts believe Miss Ambelon has a good chance of winning.

"I'm sure the defendant's attorney will say his client has the right to wear any fragrance she likes," says one New Orleans civil lawyer.

"But if Miss Ambelon's attorney can assemble a funda-preserved at St. Peter's Church in Rome — the church built over the site where Peter was crucified, somewhere around 55 A.D.

Scientists plan to place the DNA inside a human egg and put the egg inside a healthy woman's womb. The woman has been selected but her identity is being withheld from the public.

"If we can do this — and I have no doubt that it can be done — we could soon know more about the Savior than could ever have been imagined before," said noted genetic scientist Dr. Jann Berkhoff, who will oversee the cloning.

"We're not just creating a 'copy' of the martyred saint. The clone will, in the most literal sense, be Peter. And through hypnosis, we hope to spark deep-seated memories."

Though scientists are brimming with excitement about the cloning, Christian leaders are split in their reaction. The Pope is said to be outraged. And most Protestant leaders are demanding a halt to the project, calling it "an abomination before God."

But other theologians are behind it 100 percent.

"The prospect is chilling," said Reverend Marcel Aberneaux of the First Methodist Church of Paris. "It's time to set aside minor questions of ethics and see the big picture.

"Anything that will give us a greater, more complete knowledge of Christ has got to be a good thing."

ZOO BOY, 5, MAULED TO DEATH BY JAGUAR

Brave dad fights to save him

DOUE-a-FONTAINE, France — A 5-year-old boy was crushed to death and his brave dad seriously mauled by the massive jaws of a runaway jaguar during a family visit to a wildlife park.

By JACK ALEXANDER
Weekly World News

Tiny Gregoire Lucazeau was attacked by one of two powerful jaguars that tunneled out of their enclosure and burst through a fence at the park in central France, 160 miles from Paris.

"The animal pounced on the boy, locked its jaws around his head and neck and shook him like a rag doll," said a stunned bystander. "It happened so fast. It was a horrible thing to watch."

Heroic dad Christophe Lucazeau rushed to his son's aid as terrified visitors tried to find shelter from the marauding beasts.

"The jaguar dropped the boy's body and was mauling his father when a police sharpshooter killed the animal with one shot, saving the life of the father," said a zoo official.

Though bleeding from his bout with the jaguar, the desperate dad rushed to his son's side, but it was too late. The youngster was dead.

Meanwhile, park attendants chased and captured the other big cat, which was later destroyed.

Little Gregoire, his two brothers, two sisters and three friends were running ahead of their parents. They didn't know the jaguars were lying in wait a few feet away, ready to pounce on the first

Officials have launched an investigation into security at the park, which attracts 220,000 visitors a year.

"We want to find out why the animals were able to escape their compound and take precautions to see that such an accident never, ever happens again," said one park official.

FEMALE GUARD RAPED BY INMATE IN HIS CELL!

ABILENE, Texas — A female prison guard was making a bed check when an inmate pulled her into his cell, raped her and held her hostage with a makeshift knife to her throat for two hours.

The Robertson Prison convict was identified as Jesse Trevino Cortez, 22, a brutal rapist serving 30 years to life.

"We don't know how he was able to unlock his cell door. It was supposed to be locked," District Attorney Gary Brown said. "But we're investigating and we hope to get a grand jury indictment against him for aggravated sexual assault."

The unidentified guard was conducting a routine 2:40 a.m. bed check in the cell block when she was overpowered by the inmate wielding an 8-inch piece of sharpened metal.

HOW TO TELL A WIFE-BEATER — BEFORE YOU MARRY THE JERK!

AUTHOR and psychologist Dr. Laura Chritenberg reveals the tell-tale signs of a potential wife-beater.

By MIKE FOSTER
Weekly World News

Ladies, you can beat a wife-abuser to the punch and avoid serious injury — by dumping him long before he ever lays a hand on you!

Men who become wife-beaters have definite tell-tale personality traits, experts say.

"By learning to identify an abusive personality type, a woman can spot a potential wife-beater early on in a relationship — sometimes even on the first or second date," said New York City psychologist Dr. Laura Chritenberg, author of the upcoming book Victims No More. "She can get rid of him before he ruins her life."

There are 8 tell-tale signs, says psychologist

Here, from Dr. Chritenberg, are eight signs that your "dream date" is an abuser:

☞ VIOLENT TOWARD OTHERS — If your sweetheart is quick to resort to violence — especially against those weaker and smaller than himself — watch out. "If your man threatens to 'beat the crap' out of an elderly motorist over a minor traffic dispute, that's a red flag," says the expert.

☞ CONTROLLING — Wife-beaters need to feel in control of the household at all times — if not, they freak out. If your beau is the type who insists on making every decision — even picking out your clothing — expect him to violently "lose it" the first time you assert yourself.

☞ MEAN DRUNK — Not every heavy drinker abuses others. Some men become cheerful or simply pass out when they drink. But if alcohol brings out the hidden nasty side of your "Mr. Perfect," figure on going 15 rounds with him sometime in the future.

☞ TEMPER TANTRUMS — If your guy flies off the handle over little things — and especially if he tends to take out his frustration on those around him — he's a walking time bomb.

☞ ALWAYS BLAMES OTHERS — When things go wrong, whose fault is it? If he never takes responsibility, beware. "In the future, when he's slapping you around, he'll say that it's your 'smart mouth' that started the fight," said Dr. Chritenberg.

☞ POSSESSIVE — Don't be fooled into thinking extreme jealousy is proof of true love. If your man treats you like his personal property instead of a person, he's a menace. "A man feels he can do whatever he likes with his own property," says the expert.

☞ VERBALLY ABUSIVE — Does he make mean remarks? Many wife-abusers soften up their mates with vicious tirades for months or years before they finally let their fists do the talking.

☞ HIS DAD BEAT MOM — Quiz him about this as soon as you know him well enough. Says the expert: "Remember, wife-beating is a Millennium Bug will make sex toys go haywire!

Ladies, at 12:00 on Jan. 1, 2000, make absolutely sure you're not using a marital aid — because the device may go completely haywire, technical experts warn. Many modern-day vibrators — especially those with variable speed controls — contain microchips, which mean that they could go out of control along with computers and other high-tech devices when the impending Millennium Bug computer crisis kicks in.

A woman really can drive a man to drink

... says new report

Certain types of women can drive a man to drink — and certain types of men can turn a woman to booze, a new report reveals.

"There are four common types of wives of the alcohol-dependent male," said Charles Vetter, director of a London-based organization conducting research into alcoholism and its treatment.

By JUNE SAWYER
Weekly World News

CONTROLLER — She marries a man she regards (perhaps unconsciously) as inadequate or inferior to her. A kinder view might be that she has deep-seated needs to care for, nurse and control another person as she would a child.

Her drinking mate finds that he can depend upon his controller to pay the bills, do his laundry, have dinner ready regardless of how late it is, see to the children and make excuses to his employer when he is too hung over to go to work.

PERSECUTOR — Her relationship to her husband resembles that of a boa constrictor to a rabbit, although the rabbit does rebel by going out and getting drunk.

The persecutor is a great faultfinder. Everything her husband does is wrong.

MARTYR — "Suffering Susan" is a wife whose needs to be miserable are gratified by her marriage to an alcohol-dependent husband. Being hurt, degraded and inconvenienced by him suits her.

WAVERER — She is fearful and insecure. She needs to believe that her husband cannot get along without her. If his drinking gets too much out of control, she can shift into the role of persecutor.

There are at least three categories of husbands who can drive their wives to drink:

DOMINANT — He looks for a woman he can order around. Wives married to this type of husband are conditioned to obedience and dare to assert themselves only after they have reinforced their personalities by drinking.

DOMINATED — He is under the influence of his alcohol-dependent wife — who has been driven to drink by his always correct, rigidly predictable attitudes and actions.

SLAVER — He treats his wife as he does a car. He expects daily, reliable service from her — as a maid, child minder, cook, sex object and all-around slave.

When she breaks down and starts drinking excessively, he will bring her in for repairs. If she breaks down too often, he'll trade her in for a newer model.

THE FUGITIVE!

31-year-old convict masquerades as high school senior — & turns into a brilliant honor student!

NEWSPAPERS nationwide are reporting this story.

Police Get Wise to Cl

Fugitive returned to high school, posed as honor student

PORTLAND, Ore. — Blessed with a boyish face, a 31-year-old fugitive on the run from forgery and theft charges took refuge in the classrooms and hallways of his high school alma mater.

Michael Backman, Grant High School class of '98, has pretended to be a 17-year-old senior there since September, taking a full slate of classes including government, global studies, Spanish and geometry, police said.

The charade ... an end

Michael Backman, 31, kept his grade point average up while he masqueraded as a high school student.

PORTLAND, Ore. — Popular high school senior Dean Deangelo sang in the a cappella choir, carried a full slate of classes and had a lofty 3.5 grade average.

But this outgoing honor student with a baby face wasn't what he seemed to be. He was, in fact, a 31-year-old fugitive who masqueraded as a 17-year-old student at his alma mater for three months before cops caught up with him.

He hid from the cops in classrooms where 'Mr. Holland's Opus' was filmed!

His amazing charade ended when police got an anonymous tip that Deangelo was actually Michael Backman, a fugitive wanted on theft, forgery and parole violation charges in Oregon, Washington and California.

Police Sgt. Mike Hefley interrupted choir practice to take Backman into custody.

"I introduced myself and said I wanted him to help in identifying someone," Sgt. Hefley said. "I opened up the 1986 Grant High School yearbook and pointed to a senior class picture of him.

"His reaction was one of shock. He knew the game was over."

Backman, using the name Deangelo, showed up at Grant High in September, accompanied by a woman posing as his legal guardian. They had convincing documents indicating he was transferring from Beverly Hills (Calif.) High School.

He quickly blended in with his short-cropped hair and boyish looks. He was on the honor roll with a straight-A grade average and sang a solo during the school's Christmas program.

By all accounts, Backman was a popular student who made great grades without struggling.

"He was the kind of guy who handed in his reports two weeks early," said a classmate.

No one had the faintest idea Backman was a "con man" who had spent most of the last 10 years in prison, Sgt. Hefley said.

"But we wondered where he got his money and how he could afford the '98 Camaro he drove," said a classmate.

Backman is being held in nearby Beaverton on a forgery charge. Police still haven't located the woman who accompanied Backman when he enrolled in the school.

COPYRIGHT © 1999 WEEKLY WORLD NEWS

LANTANA, Fla. — Noted psychics worldwide are reporting something very disturbing: Over the past five years, there has been a dramatic increase in the number of departed souls trying to warn the living to prepare for the end of the world!

WEEKLY WORLD NEWS EXCLUSIVE

By ANN VICTORIA

This upsetting news has come to light as a result of a recent poll in which Weekly World News called upon 20 of the world's top mediums — psychics who specialize in contacting the spirits of the dead.

The NEWS asked these gifted men and women — some of the most accurate and respected in their field — a two-part question: "In your contacts with the spirit world, are there any themes or subjects that come up regularly, and if so, what are they?"

The answer stunned us. An amazing 17 of the 20 mediums said yes. And even more incredibly, all 17 noted the same theme: The world as we know it is very close to ending.

A typical response comes from French medium Claire Boudreaux. The acclaimed psychic, who speaks to at least 11 departed spirits every day, says nearly all of them tell her there is nothing to fear "on the other side" — but that we, the living, must be prepared for death.

"They want us to be ready for the end," Miss Boudreaux told us by phone from Paris. "They're telling us there are four specific things we should do here on Earth while there is still time.

"Doing these four things will make it easier for us to 'cross over' to the spirit world and they will also make it easier for us to remain at peace once we're there."

She says we should:

1. Pray regularly
2. Love one another
3. Exercise our minds every day
4. Eat no meat. (Yes, there seems to be a definite connection between nutrition and spirituality.)

Fifteen of the other mediums mention the danger that the world will end soon — and go on to give specific details about how the spirits say the end will come and what will lead up to it.

Revered medium Dr. James Raschlund, of Santa Fe, N.M., says that certain things will happen just before the end.

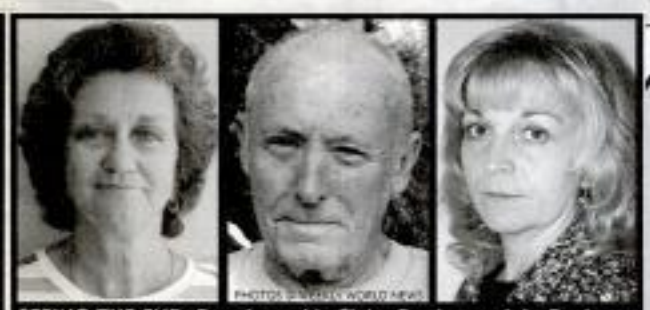
"Some of the specifics are vague," he says. "But many are crystal clear."

According to Dr. Raschlund:

- There will be a series of violent earthquakes, occurring over 11 consecutive days. The quakes will occur in Tokyo, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Mexico City and seven other cities that the spirits do not designate.
- After this 11-day seismic upheaval, a major fire will break out somewhere in Kansas or Missouri, in a city untouched by the quakes. The blaze will sweep outward in a wide circle, consuming thousands of acres. Millions will die. The fire will eventually be extinguished, but the world will end a month later.
- The spirits also say that before the end, a strange fad will sweep the Earth: Millions of young people will begin having sex in public. This vile practice will be the "in" thing to do. Teens and young adults will do it to shock older people.
- Less than three months before the Earth's destruction, the world will be plagued by a ravenous life-form — a hideous species of insect that devours not only human and animal life, but vegetable and mineral materials as well. Thousands will die in America but the majority of victims — millions — will die in Asia and Africa.
- A strange and deadly virus will strike the United States and Canada.

Seers everywhere receiving messages — from the Other

THE SPIRIT WORLD



SEEING THE END: French psychic Claire Boudreaux, left, Dr. James Raschlund and Denmark's Uta Knudsen have all been contacted by spirits of the dead and warned to prepare for the end of life as we know it.

Its early symptoms will be a simple cough and a sore throat. But it will spread to the brain, causing victims to fly into homicidal and suicidal rages. People will torture and brutalize one another, and thousands will be murdered, or die by their own hands.

● Strange signs will appear in the skies. Both the moon and sun will appear to break in half and hover eerily above us for days.

The stars will come so close to Earth that they will appear 50 times larger than they do now.

Very few of the mediums say the souls they speak with tell them how the end will come. Denmark's Uta Knudsen is an exception.

Mrs. Knudsen tells the NEWS, "The spirits say the Earth will be ultimately destroyed in a war — a war which, oddly enough, does not involve major powers like the U.S., Russia or China.

"They say the war will be between two small Middle Eastern nations who will unleash the force of a monstrous weapon of destruction.

"They will realize too late that they do not know how to control the weapon and it will destroy Earth with a combination of fire and germ warfare."

PROSPECTORS swarmed into the hills in covered wagons like this one during California gold rush days.

Construction workers find covered wagon filled with gold!

BUILDING contractor Randy Bralter was clearing land when he hit pay dirt.

By RANDY JEFFRIES / Weekly World News

Nugget-filled sacks date back to the 1850s, says California historian

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — A team of construction workers has made a $2 1/2 million discovery in the Sierra Nevada foothills: A covered wagon from the 1850s filled with gold nuggets!

Housing contractor Randy Bralter and his crew were clearing land to build a home just east of Rancho Cordova when they struck something hard. The men used shovels to carefully clear away the dirt around it.

"I couldn't believe my eyes," said Bralter. "It was an actual covered wagon, just like you'd see in a cowboy movie. But this one was absolutely real. We were stunned."

And when Bralter and his three-man crew looked inside the wagon they made an incredible discovery. "Under the rotting canvas cover we found 46 burlap sacks," said Bralter. "Each bag held about 16 ounces of yellow rocks. Even before the geologists confirmed it, we knew they were gold nuggets."

HISTORIAN: Dr. Michael Esterlom.

Sacramento historian and Old West expert Dr. Michael Esterlom examined the Conestoga wagon and says it dates from the early 1850s, the height of California's gold rush days.

"The wagon was found less than 30 miles from the site of Sutter's mill where James Marshall first discovered gold in 1848," said Dr. Esterlom.

"Within a couple of years, thousands of prospectors had swarmed into the hills looking for gold. Some of them hit it big.

"But there were hundreds of desperadoes preying on the lucky ones. This wagon was probably swiped from one of the mines in the area, but the thief's luck ran out when he tried to bring the stolen gold to Sacramento.

"The wagon was miles off the main trail," said Dr. Esterlom. "And one of the wheels was broken. It would seem the man got lost on the way into town and left the wagon alone out there. a few years later, a landslide just swallowed up the wagon."

Geologists say the gold is about 90 percent pure. They estimate its worth at $2 1/2 million. "Of course, we'll have to give our fair share to Uncle Sam for taxes," said Bralter of himself and his crew. "But we'll all still wind up with more money than any of us thought we'd see in our lifetimes."

POLISH STUDENTS ARE TOPS AT CHEATING!

WARSAW, Poland — Students from elementary through college are exceptionally brilliant in one area of academic life: They've developed cheating into a fine art!

The practice of cribbing on tests is so widespread it's become expected. Parents condone it, teachers take it for granted and no one is too upset about it.

The techniques range from simple cheat sheets and answers written on the hand all the way up to miniature radio transmitting devices.

Cheating is so rampant that tests have become a sort of good-natured game in which teachers try to catch students in the act. But unlike schools in America, Polish schools rarely

Q Is it true that Madonna is obsessed with the lives of Japanese courtesans of the 1930s — and often fantasizes about being one?
— Rob G., Hartsdale, N.Y.

A MODERN-DAY GEISHA GIRL? Madonna.

A Madonna has recently become interested in Japan and the sexy songbird, who recently appeared on the cover of Harper's Bazaar sporting her version of an "Asian look," admits she's particularly fascinated by the lives of traditional Japanese courtesans and geisha girls. "Sometimes I think that what I do is like being a modern-day geisha," she says.

Q Could you please run a photo of Tammy Faye Bakker without her eye make-up? We'd get a real kick of seeing what she really looks like under all that mascara.
— Ed and Fran R., Meridian, Miss.

A That's a much taller order than you think. Under her fake giant eyelashes, the ex-wife of disgraced TV evangelist Jim Bakker wears permanent eyeliner, permanent brows and permanent lip liner. The indelible markings are to ensure that, wherever she goes, she won't be without her trademark eye makeup.

PERMANENT EYE MAKEUP: Tammy Faye Bakker.

"As for the eyelashes — I'll die with these things on," Tammy Fay explains. "They wouldn't know me in Heaven if I don't have my eyelashes."

Q Please settle a bet. Is England's Prince Edward, the youngest brother of Prince Charles, gay?
— Simone A., Baltimore, Md.

A No — although 34-year-old bachelor Edward kept Britons wondering for quite some time. While his bed-hopping big brothers Charles and Andrew were out chasing everything in a skirt and engaging in macho pursuits, Edward always had a softer, gentler image. He quit the royal marines four months into training, earning him the nickname "Wimp" from Fleet Street tabloids. To make matters worse, the Prince announced plans to pursue his true love, the dramatic arts, and took work in the musical Cats. Finally, Edward was forced to publicly deny rumors that he was gay. Fortunately, his recent engagement to girlfriend Sophie Rys-Jones should end the gossip permanently.

I AM NOT GAY: Prince Edward.

Q Handsome Law and Order cop Benjamin Bratt is a successful actor — but not nearly as big a star as his sweetheart Julia Roberts. Has she been guiding his career and giving him tips on how to say lines?
— Lana R., Whittier, Calif.

A After a string of failed romances, including a disastrous marriage to country crooner Lyle Lovett, Julia can recognize a prescription for relationship hell — and telling her new beau how to act would definitely qualify. The Pretty Woman says that having a boyfriend who's an actor is great because "we understand what goes through the course of each other's day." But that doesn't mean she tells Bratt what to do on-screen. "It's not a coach and a player — it's a team," she said in an interview.

Q I know that superstar John Travolta is a devout Scientologist. Any truth to the talk that he plans to promote the weird cult by producing and starring in the movie version of a book by L. Ron Hubbard, the founder of Scientology?
— Alan F., Newnan, Ga.

A Travolta will indeed be using his Hollywood clout to bring Hubbard's best-selling book Battlefield Earth to the big screen. But the novel, written before Hubbard cooked up his own religion, is pure sci-fi and has nothing to do with Scientology. Even though the flick won't be pushing the New Age religion, Travolta is thrilled by the opportunity to introduce Hubbard to audiences. "I think that he deserves respect as an artist as well as the founder of a brilliant philosophy," the Civil Action star said.

NOT A CANDIDATE: Alec Baldwin.

A Sorry, the matinee idol isn't throwing his hat in the ring anytime soon. Baldwin says he won't run for office just because folks at Democrat fund-raisers keep telling him how "brilliant" he is and that he'd be a great candidate. EVERYONE HAS A GUARDIAN ANGEL

By DENNIS HICKS
Weekly World News

You really DO have a guardian angel — and you can use its powers to bring you love, happiness, health and wealth, a leading theologian says.

All you need to do is learn how to contact your heavenly guardian and enlist its help, according to Dr. Carl Linder of the Institute of Christian Teachings in Stockholm, Sweden.

In today's stressful times, most people haven't taken the time to contact their guardian angels. But people can put these guardians back in charge of their lives just by calming down and listening to their companions from above.

"We're given this heavenly friend from the moment of birth and it is with us all our lives," said Dr. Linder, author of two books on angels and their relationships with humans. "Yet most of us have forgotten it's there.

"It's like ignoring one of life's most important resources. Angels can control what happens to us, they can advise us, they can affect what others do to us — they can even help us win the lottery. The guardian angel's job is to protect and to encourage us in the face of all life's problems and challenges — why not learn to take advantage of it?"

Dr. Linder published an impressive study involving hundreds of people and their contacts with guardian angels. His work indicates the most successful people are in regular communication with their angels and people who describe their lives as happy are also 80 percent more likely to have contacts with their angels.

"They don't always describe these contacts as communications with an angel, but that's what it is," Dr. Linder said in a recent conference call the contacts hunches, premonitions, gut feelings — but really it's the work of their guardians.

"The good news is that people who have never experienced this relationship before can be taught to do so. Much of my research shows that with a few simple lessons, people can make dramatic improvements in their lives by learning to contact their guardian angels."

. . . and here's how you can make yours work for you!

Dr. Linder advises a week-long "cool out" before attempting to reach a heavenly guardian. During this period, reduce activities as much as possible and try to spend time alone, relaxing.

After the week of calm, follow these steps to make contact with your guardian angel:

★ Each morning, spend 10 minutes in quiet prayer asking for help from your angel. Prepare your mind to hear messages from your guardian angel.

★ Every waking hour, set aside a few minutes to "listen." Try to be aware of new thoughts and feelings, strong attractions or aversions, hunches, etc.

Your guardian angel will reach you this way, by implanting its messages in your mind.

★ Have the confidence to follow your hunches. You'll find as time goes on that they will lead you in the right path because they really come from your guardian angel.

★ Stop worrying. Your guardian angel will stay with you and watch over you if you just let it.

★ Open your eyes and really see what's going on around you. Guardian angels can take many forms.

In fact, they've actually been known to appear to people as animals and insects to get their messages across.

★ Pay close attention to the strangers you meet and talk to. Believe it or not, they may be your guardian angel.

★ The best time to consult your guardian angel for an extended conversation or advice is late at night, just before you go to bed.

Clear your mind of negative thoughts and images and just let the angel come to you.

★ Don't buck your guardian angel. If you consistently ignore its advice or shun its help, the angel will become frustrated — and leave you to your own pitiful devices.

Want to change your life? Then write your own obituary!

"Sit down, look back over your life and write your own obituary. The epitaph that faces you can provide the jolt you need to live the life you want," says top psychiatrist, Dr. Roy Menninger. "What have you amounted to? What have you become? What are you proud to say about yourself? The question is whether you are going to look at what you've written and exclaim, 'Oh, my God! This isn't what I want my life to add up to!'

"The point is that if you spend some time writing your obituary now — and it makes you think and act — the real one at the end of your life could be an epitaph you'll be proud of.

"Have you retreated to the standard middle-class value of measuring your success in terms of dollars? Will you be remembered only because you had three houses, two cars and a boat?" asks Dr. Menninger.

"We periodically see patients in here in their mid-40s suffering from acute depression. They need hospitalization because they've pursued the material things in life with a frenzy — only to find out, when they achieved them, that they didn't mean anything.

"It's surprising how many people feel helpless and act as if they were on a merry-go-round, unable to get off.

"They offer excuses that they're caught up with work, the PTA, chauffeuring the kids to school. They never step outside themselves and say, 'Look, Buster! Nobody forced you to join the PTA. Nobody forced you to work where you do — you chose to work there. Nobody forced you to have a family.'

"You have far more choices to be the person you want to be than you might realize. That's why I suggest you write your own obituary. It may prompt you to make some significant changes in your life."

MY AMERICA By ED ANGER

SOCCER IS FOR SISSIES

. . . AND NO GRANDSON OF MINE IS EVER GONNA PLAY IT!

I'm madder than a roach in a Raid commercial over something my lard-tail daughter-in-law Candy did the other day.

She took my 8-year-old grandson Teddy to a soccer team tryout!

She might as well have taken the kid to a Gay Pride parade, for crying out loud. Everybody knows that soccer is a sissy sport. Only girls, homosexuals and foreigners play the idiotic game — and they only play it because they know you can't get hurt. Except for the occasional boo-boo on a knee or elbow, of course.

IT'S A GIRL'S GAME — PURE AND SIMPLE!

Let's face it. Any sport — except boxing or basketball — that dresses its players in short pants is for pansies. Hell, male soccer players oughta wear skirts, in my book.

Even when soccer players get in a fight — which ain't often — they usually try to scratch at each others' eyes like girls — or pansies.

But what makes me so pig-biting mad is the idea of my grandson playing a game that's so dumb nobody ever scores!

If any of these prancing dandies ever do actually kick the ball into the net, the players all hug each other like you-know-whats — and the fans immediately riot!

And just to think of my tough little grandson, who once ate a live bullfrog on a dare, swishing around on a soccer field makes me want to vomit.

In fact, I'm so mad I'm going to need another shot of Old Crow just to finish this column.

Yeah, I know. Soccer was invented at a Catholic girl's school in Philadelphia back in 1874. So it is an American game.

And it's the perfect sport for effeminate boarding-school boys to play so they don't get roughed up.

But to put a normal, red-blooded American boy on a soccer team is cruel and unusual punishment.

Unless you want him to grow up to become an interior decorator, of course. Or a hairdresser.

Bottom line time, folks. If I ever catch my grandson anywhere near a soccer field again, I'll rip his ears right off the sides of his head and make him swallow 'em.

No boy of mine is going to turn into Liberace because of some stupid game.

And that's a fact, Jack.

Ed Anger

SOCCER players are about about as well coordinated as my lard-tail daughter-in-law Candy, says Ed. There are also more openly gay players in soccer than any other sport, according to the latest World Athletic Organization survey.

ANY sport — except boxing or basketball — that dresses its players in short pants is for pansies, says Ed.

THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH CAN BE YOURS

(Special report) "The recent discovery of a new natural protein enzyme may turn into a major breakthrough in health and aging", declared a research chemist at the National Institute of Aging, a branch of the U.S. Government's National Institute of Health. "It's a most exciting finding and it certainly looks strongely as if this enzyme is going to play an important role in retarding aging and promoting a long life" he said.

The new enzyme has a double action. One, it can help people "look up" to 30 years younger by smoothing out wrinkles and firming up skin. Two, it boosts the energy supply and slows down the aging process, so you can not just live a longer but also a healthier life. And to top it off, it's perfectly safe and has no side-effects, top doctors and scientists say.

According to a New York leading neurologist and nutrition specialist, "It can make people in their 40's look like they're in their 20's, while people in their 60's may look like they're 35 or 40."

An Atlanta physician and former director of physical health services for the Georgia Regional Hospital, reports that he has tested the enzyme on dozens of patients and "it worked miracles!"

A doctor of Osteopathy, founder of the International Academy of Preventive Medicine, said: "I have used it on over 1,000 patients. Within weeks people begin to feel healthier and stronger. Within one to three months the wrinkles and lines in their faces begin to disappear and they actually start looking younger. Their skin has a better color and their bodies become suppler and more youthful. It is very definitely an anti-aging substance that slows down degenerative diseases."

Scientists believe the enzyme is an ideal weapon against senility and recommend that everyone start taking the enzyme at an earlier age to prevent the future ravages of aging, and to benefit from the enzyme's successful arthritis properties.

An organic chemist and noted authority on nutrition probably best sums up what the new substance can do for you by saying: "It's a miracle compound. You can literally turn back the hands of time with this new discovery!"

The new enzyme is being marketed under the trade name REJUVENAL and can be ordered directly from: UNILAB INTERNATIONAL, Dept. RW-18, P.O. THE NIGHTMARE OF GALLSTONES

. . . find out if you are at risk!

Gallstones are a medical nightmare for a whopping 15 million Americans — including about 20 percent of the population over 40 — but changes in diet could spell relief for some sufferers.

By ELAINE ROBERTS
Weekly World News

A diet rich in high-fiber bran and low in fatty and spicy foods can reduce or dissolve the often painful pebbles, which are most often formed when cholesterol crystallizes in the gallbladder.

Here are some other vital facts about gallstones, a problem that has long baffled scientists and laymen alike:

- About one in every four women and one out of every eight men will develop gallstones by the time they reach 60.
- Fat people are twice as likely to develop stones as skinny people.
- Repeated crash-dieting raises the risk of gallstones.
- The risk also jumps among women who use birth control pills, especially those who use them for many years.
- Americans and people in most other developed countries are the world's most frequent gallstone victims. The painful condition is rare in Japan and almost unknown in some African countries.
- For reasons still a mystery, an incredible 60 percent of Arizona's Pima Indians over the age of 30 suffer from gallstones.
- There are about 29,000 operations every year for the removal of gallstones, and in addition, nearly one-half million gallbladders are removed in America each year.

Doctors say that the people who have had their gallbladders surgically removed do horses, whales and elephants — don't have gallbladders at all.

The gallbladder, which is about three inches long, is attached to the liver.

It holds the digestive juice or bile that the liver produces to break down fatty foods. The trouble most often comes when cholesterol, which is also secreted by the liver, crystallizes in the gallbladder and forms stones that block the passages from that pear-shaped organ.

While most stones rest harmlessly in the gallbladder, some of them slip out into the bile canals and cause severe pain that some sufferers say is more agonizing than childbirth.

Surgery remains the most frequent form of relief, but doctors are excited by the promise of the high-bran diet, which may help prevent the formation of the gallstones in the first place.

TEACHER'S PETS!

Sixth-grade teacher jailed for having sex with teenage boys

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. — A teacher at a private Christian school — where her dad is principal — was sentenced to six months in prison for having sexual relations with two of her teenage students.

By JACK ALEXANDER
Weekly World News

Laurie Christine Rehrer, 33, was arrested after two boys — ages 14 and 15 — told cops that the Monica Lewinsky look-alike had sex with them at New Hope Christian Academy last April and March.

The teacher was originally charged with statutory rape, sexual abuse and taking indecent liberties with minors. She pleaded guilty to three counts of the latter charge in a plea bargain agreement.

"Her behavior was unacceptable and inexcusable," said the mother of one of the boys. "She brought grief on my family and has taken an innocence away from my child that he can never get back."

Judge E. Lynn Johnson also placed Miss Rehrer on probation for five years and ordered her to stay away from boys under 18, pay for the boys' counseling and obtain counseling for herself.

She is forbidden from working in schools and other facilities that serve children and must register as a sex offender.

New Hope Christian Academy is affiliated with New Hope Baptist Church. Miss Rehrer's father, Carl Rehrer, is principal of the school and pastor of the church.

"She's my daughter and I love her. But when she was in school, I was not her dad. She got no special preference," Rehrer said.

CRADLE-ROBBING Laurie Rehrer had sex with a 14-year-old and a 15-year-old student.

Bizarre 'Zebra Disease' death toll hits 69!

VICTIMS PRAY for death to come quickly and deliver them from the excruciating pain that they are suffering.

By KEVIN CREED / Weekly World News

LAGASPI, Philippines — A deadly new virus causes black stripes to break out on the skin, then inflicts a painful death that makes victims feel as though they are being burned alive!

And worse, the disease may soon become an epidemic that will sweep across America like wildfire!

Scientists call the disfiguring illness the DuMaurier Virus after French immunologist Dr. Jan Luc DuMaurier, who first studied it in depth. But locals refer to it as "the zebra disease."

was summoned from Paris by baffled Philippine health officials who had already quarantined 12 people with the disturbing symptoms in a small medical facility here.

These initial 12 patients have all since died — along with 57 others.

"The disease strikes only Caucasian or Asian adults," said Dr. DuMaurier. "The first symptoms are a cough and a mid-to-high fever. The fever subsides on the third day and small black discolorations appear on the shoulders and back.

"By the end of a week, the entire body is covered with jet-black stripes.

"But as horrific as these symptoms are, the worst is yet to come. After about 10 days, the stripes begin to burn. Victims say it feels as though someone is pressing a hot iron against them.

"After five or six nightmarish days of extreme pain, mercifully, death comes to relieve the agony."

So far, all the cases have been confined to this small city.

New flurry of Virgin Mary sightings has experts puzzled

By RANDY JEFFRIES / Weekly World News

MEDJUGORJE, Bosnia — In recent years, there has been a dramatic increase in sightings of the Virgin Mary. And many theologians believe these visions herald the end of the world!

Ever since 1981, when The Blessed Virgin appeared here in this tiny Bosnian village, hundreds of thousands of people have been journeying here each year, hoping for a miracle in their lives.

Now Mary seems to be revealing herself to Christians everywhere.

During the late 1990s, the Mother of Jesus has made her presence felt in almost every country in the world.

In some cases, people have seen her statues weep and drip blood — and even heard her speak. In other incidents, her image has been seen in clouds, on doorways and on the walls of churches and homes.

And there are hundreds of people who "channel" Mary — that is, allow her spirit to inhabit their bodies and speak through them.

Three months ago, in Conyers, Ga., more than 100,000 believers gathered to hear an otherwise ordinary woman named Nancy Fowler channel messages from Mary.

In a recent interview, a spokesman for Mrs. Fowler said, "This is happening all over the place. The Blessed Mother is on a mission to deliver the message that things are not going as they should in the world."

French Bible scholar and End Times author Claude Remoir agrees.

"The New Testament warns that the physical manifestation of Mary is one of the signs that the end of the world is near.

"She is urging us to turn from our sinful ways and give our lives to her Son, Jesus.

"And we had better listen to her before God's terrible wrath is visited upon the Earth."

NEWS of the increase of Virgin Mary sightings has made headlines worldwide.

TEEN SWEETHEARTS HAVING SEX ON AIRPORT RUNWAY KILLED BY 757 JUMBO JET!

SYDNEY, Australia — Nitwit Nicholas Stiles, 19, and his airhead 18-year-old girlfriend Ginger Tillis tried to win a $10 bet by making love on an airport runway — and were crushed like bugs by an incoming jumbo jet!

By JOE BERGER/Weekly World News

"I hate to be too graphic, but there wasn't much left of those poor kids — just a little hair and bone and a big grease spot," said somber security worker Warren Mitchell. "I'm sure they never felt a thing."

Stunned Dustin DeNenzo said nincompoop couple 10 bucks they wouldn't strip to the skin and get it on in the middle of an open airport runway.

If somebody says '. . . to be perfectly honest,' THEY'RE LYING!

By ELAINE ROBERTS / Weekly World News

If you want to come across as perfectly honest, never say "to be perfectly honest," warns a language expert — who reveals other phrases people commonly use and shouldn't.

Listeners become wary of what you're about to say when you use the phrase "to be perfectly honest," says language scholar Professor William Lutz.

"If a politician says it, I think most people in the audience are thinking, 'He's about to tell me a lie.' "

Here are other conversational no-nos, according to Prof. Lutz:

● NEEDLESS TO SAY — "If it's needless to say, then don't say it," he advises.

● AS YOU'RE WELL AWARE — If listeners are already aware, then why say it?

And if they aren't, this phrase will just make them feel stupid, says Prof. Lutz, author of the book Doublespeak: From Revenue Enhancement To Terminal Living.

● YOU KNOW WHAT I MEAN? — If your listener doesn't know what you mean, he'll ask.

● I HEAR WHAT YOU ARE SAYING — "You appear to be agreeing without really agreeing," the professor said. "Later you may find that someone thinks you've said yes when you may not have really said yes."

Also to be avoided are statements with words ending in "ish," such as "I'll meet you around 10ish." It's better to give a specific time.

"These phrases can lead to imprecise communication in important situations," Prof. Lutz said.

453-lb. woman stuck in compact car for 8 hours!

SYDNEY, Australia — A 453-pound woman was rescued after eight hours of agony when she became entrapped in her compact rental car in a shopping mall parking lot — and nearly broiled to death in the 120-degree heat!

Police say the woman was rescued after another shopper heard her cries coming from inside the closed car and called emergency workers. She was hospitalized with heat stroke but is expected to recover.

My sicko boyfriend spiked my coffee with laxatives!

AMERICA'S MOST OUTSPOKEN ADVICE COLUMNIST

NANCY in Kansas.

Dear Dotti: I knew that my boyfriend was a practical joker when I started dating him but nothing could have prepared me for the crazy shenanigans he pulls. Just last month he let the air out of the tires on my car and glued my driver's license to the mantel. He also put half a bottle of laxative in my coffee before we went to a party at my boss's house. I ended up spending most of the night on the john, and I almost got fired because of it. I really do love him, Dotti, but sometimes I think he's going too far. What do you think I should do? — Nancy in Kansas

Dear Nancy: This boyfriend of yours isn't a practical joker, he's a psychopath! Those laxatives could have killed you, fool, and if you spend one more minute with this lunatic, you're a hell of a lot crazier than he is!

CONFIDENTIALS

Dear Happy Guy in Delaware: So what makes you so sure you're the father?

Dear Love-struck in D.C.: I hate to tell you this, pinhead, but Bill Clinton is married.

Dear Suicidal in Alabama: That's what you get for having kids!

Dear Angry in Nevada: I could say a lot about your situation, but I'll keep it short and sweet. The next time the Good Lord hands out brains, take some!

Dear Soaked in California: When you play "cowpokes" on a waterbed, bonehead, leave the spurs out of it!

Dear Worried in Texas: I've heard of air guitar but "air sex" is ridiculous!

Dear Craft Lady in Iowa: Condoms might very well look like miniature hula hoops but they don't belong in a dollhouse!

Dear Suspicious Wife in New York: Most men disappear for days on end and are too tired to make love to their wives. Don't worry about it!

Dear Disappointed in Michigan: For God's sake, man — the gal's wearing a neck brace!

Mom blew her nose on my new tablecloth!

Dear Dotti: My mother came to Sunday dinner at my house last week and her behavior was atrocious. I could go on and on about it, but suffice it to say she hoisted the edge of my new linen tablecloth and blew her nose on it right in the middle of dinner. I was so stunned that I couldn't even speak. What would you have done if you were in a situation like that? — Rosalyn in South Dakota

ROSALYN in South Dakota.

Dear Rosalyn: If the old goat blew her nose on my new tablecloth, I would have picked up the nearest bowl of gravy and poured it on her head. To ice the cake, the idiot would have gotten at least one swift kick — on her way out the door!

You aren't even pretty enough to be a hooker!

Dear Dotti: You are, without a doubt, the corniest freak alive! Your boyfriend is a great guy and has always treated me like a queen. But he absolutely adores garlic and sprinkles it on everything he eats. Needless to say, he has breath that would gag a camel. Whenever we kiss I want to throw up. How can I make him see the light? — Maria in Washington

Dear Maria: The last man who chowed down on garlic and then tried to kiss me damage. Since you obviously don't have the guts to make a stand, I suggest you keep your mouth shut — and let "Mr. Garlic Head" walk all over you!

and pretty you are. Well, I know for a fact that you are broke and ugly. And I know you'd like to be a hooker — but you aren't even pretty enough for that! — Insider in California

Dear Insider: Now I know why your mother insists on calling you "butthead!"

I can't bear to smooch with my bad-breath beau!

Dotti, your bonehead advice cost me $millions!

Dear Dotti: You told me once that I should leave my husband because he got drunk and beat me like a drum. I took your advice and I don't mind telling you that I regret it because he won the lottery a few months ago — and now he's a millionaire. Thanks a lot, Dotti. My life may have been bad before, but I could put up with ANYTHING for that kind of money. — Faith in Ohio

FAITH in Ohio.

Dear Faith: If money means that much to you, beg the maniac to take you back. Just don't come whining to me when you end up in the morgue with dollar signs in your eyes — and a knife in your back!

The gal of my dreams has the hots for my dad!

Dear Dotti: I've been dating a wonderful lady and we hit it off big-time. After a few dates Teri moved in with me and as far as I was concerned, things couldn't have been better. At least they couldn't have been better until she met my father. They really took a shine to each other. And even though I realized they were getting very close, I didn't put two and two together until I came home from work and found them in bed together. Teri insists she has enough love for both me and Dad but I don't know. What should I do? — Mark in Connecticut

Grunwick says he came up with the idea because he has bad gas himself and his wife often complained. He has tested the device on about a dozen other flatulence-sufferers, after advertising for volunteers in a local paper.

After wearing the briefs for a month, the subjects all give the Gas Beater an enthusiastic thumbs-up.

Ann, a 45-year-old office manager, had suffered from the embarrassing problem for years.

"Before, when I passed gas, I would get dirty looks from my co-workers — I thought someone was going to kill me," she said. "The same goes for church. And when I rode the subway, people would be elbowing each other to get away from me — and the stench. It was so humiliating.

"Now, even when I let loose a real gut-buster, no one is the wiser."

The Gas Beater is comfortable and invisible to others, says Ron, a 51-year-old elevator operator.

"No one can tell I'm wearing it. But believe me, my passengers are all breathing a lot easier."

Grunwick says the Gas Beater will be available in stores later this year and should sell for about $49.95.

NEWS QUIZ

HOW DOES YOUR MARRIAGE RATE?

By JUNE SAWYER
Weekly World News

Take this revealing test — and find out

How's your marriage doing? If you really want to find out, take this quiz and see how you rate.

Designed by psychiatrist Dr. Frank Caprio, the simple test reveals how well women communicate with their husbands.

"Communication with kindness is the best path to happiness in marriage," said Dr. Caprio. "If more people took this approach and talked over their problems, there would be fewer divorces."

When you take the quiz below, answer as honestly as possible.

1. Your anniversary is coming up in a few weeks. It is very important to you. You:

a. Say nothing, and wait for your spouse to throw you a surprise party.

b. Make sure your spouse knows what you want to do and give him a list of gifts you would like.

Give yourself one point for each of these answers:

1C, 2C, 3C, 4C, 5C, 6C, 7C, 8C, 9C, 10C.

A score of 9-10 indicates you have a happy marriage, a score of 7-8 shows that your marriage is successful even though you don't always agree.

A score of 6 points means that you have pronounced differences, but enjoy a good marital relationship in spite of them.

If you score 5 points or lower, you can strengthen your marriage by working with your husband or wife to iron out your incompatibilities.

Was I married to Ben Franklin in a past life?

AMERICA'S SEXIEST PSYCHIC

Serena Sabak

Let Dallas-based Serena help you! Write to her c/o Weekly World News, 600 E. Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33464-8002. We'll forward your letters to her. Don't send money. Serena's advice is free. NOTE: Even though she tries her best, it would be impossible for Serena to answer all of the thousands of letters she gets each week.

JOAN in Buchanan.

Dear Serena: I am convinced I was married to Benjamin Franklin in a former life.

Ever since I was a little girl, I've been fascinated with him. I have always felt he was the greatest American statesman, and it's always bothered me that he doesn't get more credit. Then about six years ago when I was 28, I started having a recurring dream that I was his wife. In the dream, Ben is outside flying his kite in a lightning storm and I'm in the house terribly worried about him. I always wake up screaming and frightened. Please tell me about my former life with Benjamin Franklin. — Joan in Buchanan

Dear Joan: You lived a former life in the 1600s in Europe and were married to a man named Andrew Warton. He died in 1654 and years later was reincarnated as Benjamin Franklin. You feel the strong bond to Ben Franklin because your souls are eternally linked, even though you were never actually married to him.

Dear Serena: My puppy dog Lollie has been missing for four weeks and I'm afraid I'll never see her again. I've looked all over town, but I can't find her anywhere. You're my last hope, Serena. Please tell me where Lollie is. I'll be heartbroken if I can't get her back. — Penny in Yorkville

PENNY in Yorkville.

Dear Penny: Your dog was taken by a man who works for a traveling carnival that visited your town last month. Unfortunately, the carnival is 250 miles away, but in two weeks it will be back. Go to the carnival and show the manager photos of you with Lollie. He'll make sure you get your dog back. But be ready for a surprise, Lollie will have puppies in a couple of weeks.

CURTIS in Wichita.

Dear Serena: I spoke with someone on the Internet about a month ago who claimed to be you. I was a little suspicious, even though you (or whoever) gave me perfect advice on where to find a ring I had lost. Was it really you? — Hopeful in Fullerton

Dear Fullerton: Yes, it was me. I spend quite a bit of time on the Internet and love chatting with NEWS readers. I also answer questions on the Weekly World News Website at http://wwnonline.com

Dear Serena: I have been sending my wife got a big raise at work and didn't even tell me about it. I've heard a rumor that some of the other workers in her office got raises but whenever I ask her about it she just laughs and says she doesn't know anything about it. Then last weekend she bought herself a ton of new clothes and even ordered a new refrigerator. Where did she get all this money? Did she get a big raise she didn't tell me about? — Curtis in Wichita

Dear Curtis: She didn't get a raise — but she sold some stocks that the company had given her more than a year ago. Don't say anything to her about it — let her spend her money the way she wants. And don't be surprised when she buys you a special gift in about a week.

Dear Serena: I have been sending gifts and letters to Brad Pitt for three years and I think he is the No. 1 star in the world. My friends say I'm stupid for being so devoted to him but I keep telling them I'll have the last laugh someday. That brings me to my question: Do you think Brad and I will ever get married? — Loving Fan in Grand Junction

ELAINE in Litchfield.

Dear Loving Fan: You and Brad Pitt will never get married but you will get to meet him this summer. After your friends see you on television chatting with Brad, they'll wish they hadn't made fun of you.

Dear Serena: If I name my son Gordo, will he hate me for it? I love that name, but a friend told me gordo means fat in Spanish, so I realize it could cause a problem. We don't know many Spanish-speaking people, so maybe it might not be too bad. What do you think? — Elaine in Litchfield

Dear Elaine: Don't do it. If you do, he'll get the nickname Fatto before he even makes it out of the first grade. And since your son will be fairly large, the unfortunate nickname will stick.

Expert's research finds:

DEATH BRINGS AN AFTERLIFE WHERE ALL YOUR DREAMS COME TRUE . . .

HEAVEN CAN WAIT: Once you get there, you're going to want to leave, says researcher Ian Currie.

. . . but it will be so boring you'll want to be reincarnated!

When you die, you will experience a fantastic afterlife where all of your dreams come true. But sooner or later, you'll get so bored with Paradise, you will return to Earth in a new reincarnation!

That's the stunning conclusion of researcher Ian Currie, who has analyzed a century of studies and reports on death involving hundreds of thousands of people.

"Most people who die end up in an afterlife where their every dream can be realized — it's totally responsive to your every whim," said Currie, author of the book You Cannot Die.

"If you always enjoyed being with your buddies down at the tavern when you were alive; then all you have to do in the afterlife is think of the tavern and it will become real to you.

"If your idea of the afterlife is a white cloud with angels, then that's what you'll see when you die.

"You can have a thousand girlfriends or boyfriends or play golf every day. It all depends on your desires."

Currie bases his findings on communications with the dead through mediums, accounts from people who were pronounced dead but were later revived, and reports from others who had uncanny out-of-body experiences (OBEs).

In one case, a woman who had an OBE told Currie she remembered leaving her body and entering the afterlife, where she met a niece who had previously died.

"The niece took her aunt to a lavishly furnished home," said Currie. "When the niece was asked how she got such a beautiful place, the niece replied that she had made it with her mind — and proceeded to make some more household luxuries just by thinking about it.

"The aunt asked if she could do the same thing and was told to simply visualize what she wanted. She did — and made a blue vase.

"But before she could make any more wonderful objects, her experience began to end and she returned to her body and her life on Earth."

The woman was experiencing a realm of the afterlife known as the "plane of illusions," Currie explained.

"Its purpose is to get rid of all your earthly desires and attachments. If you can have as much as you want of anything at the flicker of a thought, you're apt to get bored."

When this happens, he said, you leave the afterlife and return to Earth in a new incarnation.

Kids pour out their true feelings to their pets — not Mom and Dad, says new study!

PETS are nonjudgmental — and they don't criticize. They love to be loved.

Many children will sit down and pour out their personal problems to their one dear friend — their cat or dog!

That's the word from researchers who are studying the unusual phenomenon.

"They trust the pet and they tell the pet things they wouldn't tell anyone else," said psychologist Dr. Boris Levinson.

Psychologist Dr. Suzanne Megahan, who studied the relationship between the children and their pets, said that kids "would sit down and reflect with the pets at length on things of personal concern."

Most of the youngsters actually revealed their deepest feelings because they were so sure the pets cared, she said.

"If you are sure that someone cares about you, you are convinced that they will see things your way. The animal would do things, move closer or lick them, or in some way make a response that made them feel that the pet did care."

The pet served as a source of unconditional love and affection, Dr. Levinson added.

what you eat. You may be drunk or sober, but he is still your friend. Animals learn to understand their owner's deepest emotions."

Animals seem to have a natural empathy for humans, said Dr. Samuel Corson, who has used pets to help patients in adolescent psychiatry.

"They have a natural empathy for the kind of feelings we have and they have a natural gift for reassuring you. This is because they are nonjudgmental. They don't criticize. They like to be liked."

DOGS make the best listeners, the experts say.

dog gets right at you and says 'I've been waiting for you all day long,' " said Dr. Corson. "A BOOK ON TITS IS FOR THE BIRDS!

LONDON — A mail-order firm has been swamped

Millions buying prescription drugs over the Internet — without ever visiting a doctor!

ANYONE can buy the sex-energizing drug Viagra over the World Wide Web.

WASHINGTON — Want to get Viagra, Prozac and other strong, prescription drugs at one-tenth the going price — without even bothering to visit a doctor?

It's easy. Just sign onto the World Wide Web and order them like millions of other Americans!

You can even buy medicines like the super-potent diet drug Xenical, which have never been approved by the Food Drug Administration.

And surprisingly, there is little or nothing that the government can do about it.

By R. NEALE LIND
Weekly World News

"It's very hard to control what happens on the Internet," says FDA spokesman William Hubbard. "The sale of prescription drugs is regulated by individual states. It's conceivable that a company in Ohio could place an ad on the Web offering Prozac for sale and someone in Indiana could order it without Ohio officials even knowing about it.

"And many of the companies offering these drugs are based in other countries. They send their products in plain brown packages, making it very hard for U. S. Customs agents to spot."

Hubbard says he understands why these Internet sites have such appeal for the buyer.

"The customer can buy in volume and save up to 90 percent on the drug — and avoid the cost of a doctor visit," he says.

"But there's a very real and serious downside. The drugs you buy on the Web aren't subject to government standards. They could be selling you inferior medications or worse — drugs with harmful substances in them.

"And even if you get exactly what you order, it can still be dangerous. Most of these drugs have side effects. For instance, certain men risk heart problems if they take Viagra. Unless you've consulted a physician who knows your specific medical profile, you could be putting yourself at risk."

Hubbard says the FDA is currently urging individual states to join in a cooperative effort to regulate the sale of pharmaceuticals on the Web.

ORANGUTANS IGNORE THEIR YOUNG AFTER WATCHING VIDEOTAPES OF HOW TO BE BETTER PARENTS!

MOSCOW — Goofy Russian zoologists got the bright idea of teaching orangutans parenting skills by letting them watch videos of other orangutans caring for their young. But once the apes got a taste for the tube, they started watching tapes all day — and completely ignored their babies!

By KEVIN CREED
Weekly World News

The two orangutans, both orphaned and raised in captivity, had no idea of how to raise their offspring.

Zookeepers were hoping the videos would teach them.

Wrong.

"They got so engrossed in the TV screen they just brushed their baby away to fend for himself," said zoo director Ivan Korneyev. "They wouldn't feed him, wouldn't see to his needs — in fact they were better parents before they saw the tapes."

The TV and video system have since been removed but the orangutans, Monika and Rabu, still gather around and stare at the space where the monitor used to be.

The baby has been temporarily removed from the pen, but Monika and Rabu don't seem to notice.

Nun who hadn't seen a man in 43 years drops dead when naked guy runs into convent!

ESERO, Italy — Sister Cecelia Passera had spent the last 43 years of her life at a secluded convent in the Italian Alps and hadn't laid eyes on a guy in all that time. So when a terrified man ran buck-naked through the garden where she was working, the stunned nun keeled over in her tracks — and died of a heart attack!

Convent doctor Claudia Dosconi said Sister Cecelia, 62, had no history of heart trouble before the fateful day a skinny-dipper being chased by dogs scaled a 16-foot stone wall — then scampered through the flower garden where the ill-fated lady was hoeing weeds.

"The sister had recently undergone a complete physical and she seemed in excellent health," Dr. Dosconi said. "But she died of cardiac arrest, and it's obvious from what the other nuns told me that the sight of a nude man was simply more than she could stand. They said she screamed, put her hands over her eyes, then sagged to the ground on a row of snapdragons."

"Suddenly these four dogs came at me out of the woods, growling like crazy," the bachelor recalled. "I didn't have time to grab my clothes — I just ran for my life, with them on my tail. When I came to the wall, I was so scared I scrambled over the top — and all at once I found myself in a garden, face-to-face with this poor little nun. She shrieked and I kept running — through the garden, past four or five other nuns and over

NOAH'S ARK FOUND!

Explorer says he's found Noah's ark

Italian says the vessel has been preserved on Mount Ararat in Turkey

WIRE SERVICES and newspapers are calling this the find of the century.

AGRI, Turkey — An Italian explorer has found what experts believe is Noah's ark!

The explorer, Antonio Palego, discovered the famed boat frozen in the ice of Mount Ararat.

Archaeologists say there's little doubt that it is the ark that weathered the 40-day flood written of in the Bible. The flood reportedly covered the entire planet. All living things perished except for Noah, his family and a male and female of each species of animal on Earth.

Twenty-three scientists from 19 different countries have seen the 2.1 million cubic-foot vessel. All but three believe the ark to be authentic for the following reasons:

- Scraps of wood that were dug from the ice nearby date from the time of the flood. From what researchers can gather by observing the craft through the ice, the wood of the ark matches these pieces.
- When converted from cubits, the estimated size of the ark — 512 feet by 82 feet by 50 feet — is almost exactly the size of the one the Bible says God ordered Noah to build.
- There are lower, second and third decks — unlike other boats of the time — exactly as God specified in his instructions to Noah.

Italian archaeologist Dr. Luigi Morello says he will publish a full report in the journal Science when the ark is freed from the ice and thoroughly examined.

Experts say this piece of wood is cut from a hand-hewn wooden beam and dates from the time of the flood. It was removed from Mt. Ararat along with other evidence of the ark.

RUNWAY RAGE!

HIGH-TRAFFIC AIRPORTS PUSH PILOTS TO THE BREAKING POINT!

Frustrated jet captains actually fighting over prime takeoff positions!

You've heard of road rage, where angry drivers go crazy on the highways. Well, get ready for Runway Rage — with furious pilots dueling for prime takeoff and landing spots while risking the lives of hundreds of passengers!

Officials have noted increasing incidents of pilots cutting off other jets on the runways, bumping against other planes on the ground and even buzzing dangerously close to control towers.

"The situation is out of control," said one airline industry insider, who asked to not be identified. "A lot of pilots are overworked and frustrated and near the breaking point.

"And when they lose their [illegible] volve pilots cursing at one another over their radios or making threats against air traffic controllers.

But one frightening example occurred last month in France when a pilot became angry at [illegible] and onto an area reserved for private planes.

The pilot then nearly plowed into a twin-engine plane as he accelerated for takeoff.

"That pilot could have killed something like 240 or 250 people," the source confirmed.

"He was punished for his [illegible] how this gentleman felt.

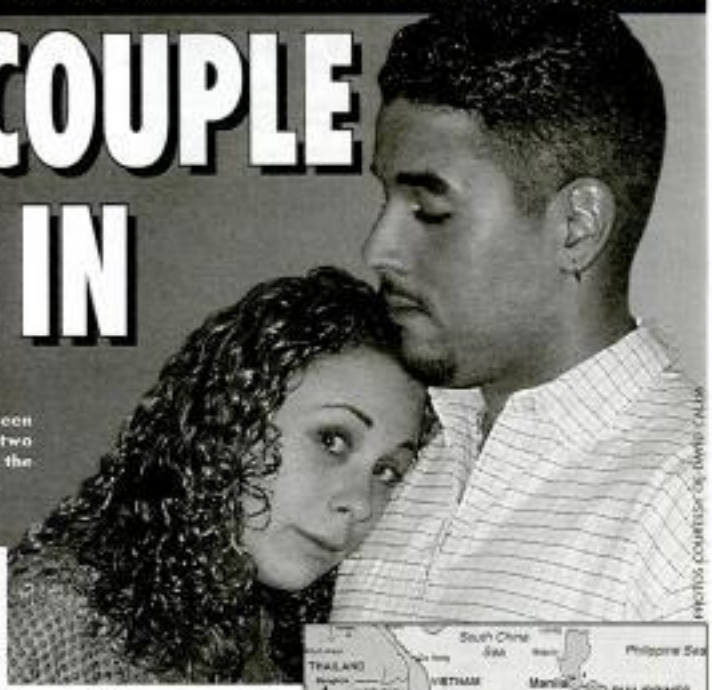
COPS FORCE COUPLE TO HAVE SEX IN PUBLIC!



COPS gave Americans Eileen Resos and David Calija two choices: Have intercourse in the dirt or be shot in the head!

PHOTOS COURTESY OF DAVID CALIJA

By JOE BERGER / Weekly World News

JAKARTA, Indonesia — Churchgoing Chicago residents Eileen Resos and David Calija barely knew each other. So the unsuspecting tourists got the shock of their lives when cops accused them of adultery, dragged them into a public square, stripped them naked — and forced them to make love in front of thousands of prying eyes!

"They said it was either have sex together right there in the dirt or take a bullet in the head, so we did what they told us to do," said mortified Eileen, 21.

"The place was filthy, with garbage and bugs and the biggest, ugliest flies I ever saw. I felt like a pig wallowing around in the mud like that. It's not the way I thought I'd lose my virginity, that's for sure."

The dumbfounded couple said they'd met less than 24 hours earlier when they boarded a flight bound for Jakarta from Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

"This was a trip sponsored by our church group and there were about 350 people our age from all over the Midwest," recalled distraught David, 22. "Eileen and I had made small talk on the plane, but we didn't really know each other at all.

"When we got to our hotel, though, it turned out our rooms were right next to each other, so I started helping her move her bags into her room. Suddenly the cops came barging in and took us both away."

Tough-talking, machine gun-toting lawmen hauled the flabbergasted Americans off to jail and charged them with adultery, a crime in Indonesia.

"We tried to explain to them that neither of us was married, we didn't know each other — we'd never even touched each other," sad-eyed Eileen later told reporters. "But they wouldn't listen. They hit us with sticks and told us to confess, but we weren't going to admit to something we didn't do.

"Finally, they marched us out of the police station with guns pointed at our heads and made us have sex right in the middle of town with everybody watching. Street beggars and all the scum of the city were standing right there, hooting and hollering and cheering like they were watching a soccer game or something."

Afterwards, the stunned couple was forced to walk naked to the police station two blocks away to claim their clothes.

"We went back to the hotel, and later a policeman showed up and told us it had all been a terrible misunderstanding," devastated David said. "He said the police had mistaken us for another couple accused of cheating on their spouses.

"The cops even offered to pay for our stay in Jakarta, but 'They dragged us from our hotel & stripped us naked,' says Chicago woman

"IT'S not the way I thought I'd lose my virginity, that's for sure," says Eileen.

POLICE in Jakarta accused Eileen, 21, and David, 22, of committing adultery — and doled out a terrible punishment to the pair.

CHIEF Crazy Horse was a brilliant military strategist. Some say he was the mastermind who planned the Battle of the Little Bighorn.

WASHINGTON — The last living descendant of legendary Sioux Indian Chief Crazy Horse says his great-great-grandfather has repeatedly appeared to him in visions and has warned of horrifying catastrophes to take place between now and March 13, 2000!

Billy Still Waters has been lobbying for a chance to go before the U.S. Senate and address America's leaders — hoping that they will heed what he calls "the Crazy Horse Prophecies" and take action now, while it is still possible to avert worldwide cataclysm.

Among the chilling events foretold by the Native-American's long-dead ancestor:

- A Second Great Depression far more devastating than the first, with starvation so widespread that "the White Eyes will be forced to eat each others' flesh for meat."
- A new wave of the AIDS epidemic that will spread from person to person like wildfire, taking the lives of "even the most chaste and innocent."
- Terrifying natural disasters, including earthquakes of unprecedented magnitude, unrelenting global drought, colossal tidal waves and raging forest fires that incinerate entire states.
- The return of Jesus Christ to judge mankind, with fewer

● The destruction of the entire planet in a nuclear Armageddon on March 13, 2000.

Crazy Horse, who helped Sitting Bull defeat Custer at the Battle of the Little Bighorn in 1876, was widely believed by his followers to have psychic powers.

And following his death in 1877, many sightings of his ghost have been reported by visitors to the sacred Black Hills he once defended from the white man.

Great-great-grandson Billy Still Waters of Pierre, S.D., says his famous relative has been appearing to him ever since he was a young boy.

"Once Crazy Horse told me that the White Eyes would one day walk on the moon. When that really happened a few years later, I understood that he spoke the truth.

"Crazy Horse walks among the spirits now — he exists outside of normal time. He has seen our future and it is very grim indeed."

Crazy Horse has warned his last living descendant that mankind faces a series of horrors, culminating in the annihilation of all life on Earth in March of next year.

"Many of these troubles are our own doing," said Still Waters. "Crazy Horse foresees environmental disasters resulting from pollution and global warming, and nuclear war resulting from ethnic hatred and conflicts between nations."

The Indian chief's spirit told Still Waters that the catastrophes can be avoided or at least minimized if people take his message seriously and make dragmatic changes in the way we treat our brothers and sisters the world over — and the planet Earth itself. Back in 1996, Still Waters sought a private audience with President Bill Clinton to convey the urgent warning, but his pleas were rejected — much to his chagrin.

"Crazy Horse has chosen me to deliver his message from the Great Beyond," he said.

"If we listen and act properly, we have a chance. If we ignore his warning, we are doomed. Life will vanish from the Earth in the year 2000 if we don't change our ways now — and, as things stand now, very, very few of us will go to Heaven.

"That is why I am begging to for a chance to address Congress now. Only with the full cooperation of the American government can a tragic end to human history be avoided."

AIDS PLAGUE, END OF THE WORLD,

THE DEVIL'S TRIANGLE IS MISSING!

Scientists are concerned by startling new evidence that the Devil's Triangle has vanished, possibly because of global warming!

They say unexplained disappearances of boats and planes in the mysterious waters off the Southeastern coast of the U.S. have dwindled to zero this year — down from 32 just 10 years ago.

"There hasn't been a single documented report of a vanishing this year," confirms Professor Nicholas Scherer, leader of a German team which has been monitoring activity in the Triangle.

SCIENTISTS FEAR GLOBAL WARMING HAS DESTROYED THE MOST MYSTERIOUS PLACE ON THE PLANET!

Over the years, more than 1,000 people have vanished without a trace in the Triangle. But all that may be in the past, the scientists say. Prof. Scherer believes the Devil's Triangle has been steadily shrinking over the last 33 years. "The number of disappearances plummeted from 184 in 1963 to just 32 in 1989," he observed.

In the past, a bizarre electromagnetic field in the Triangle interfered with mechanical instruments, making compasses whirl out of control.

Beginning in 1992, Prof. Scherer's team has taken yearly magnetic readings to map the dimensions of the Triangle.

"We were able to determine that the size of the Triangle was diminishing at a rapid rate," he said. "We measured the total area at half what it was in 1992. By this January we were unable to detect any sign of the Triangle at all."

FAMED SEER Lori Adaile Toye.

GIANT BAY CUTS NATION IN TWO!

PIECES!

The United States of America will be rocked by a series of climatic changes, earthquakes and other natural disasters that will leave some states entirely under water, others buried under mountains of glacial ice — and our beloved country literally split in two by a giant body of water!

That is the horrifying prophecy of famed seer Lori Adaile Toye, who has published a series of maps that show in five stages how the future will unfold.

The maps depict in chilling detail how the continent of North America will be ravaged by forces beyond our control sometime in the next few years.

The future was revealed 16 years ago to Mrs. Toye — then an ordinary farm wife and young mother of three — by four mysterious beings in white robes.

Since that time, Mrs. Toye and her husband Lenard, of Prague, Okla., have prophecy by every means at their disposal.

If mankind fails to change his destructive and evil ways soon, the prophecy is destined to come true, she told Weekly World News. "But if we truly love our brothers, these catastrophes can be lessened, circumvented or avoided altogether."

Time may be running out. Scientists confirm that some of the changes Mrs. Toye warns about are already beginning to take place, such as global warming, melting of the polar ice caps and rising ocean levels.

On the following pages are the five maps and what the seer says awaits our nation.

FRIGHTENING PROPHECY

PHASE 1:

THE GREENHOUSE EFFECT, a problem caused largely by pollution, throws seasons out of kilter.

Severe winters occur with temperatures in the Midwest dropping as low as 60 degrees below zero. The middle of the country is also hit by high winds and tornadoes, accompanied by devastating floods that destroy crops and agriculture.

Unusual high tides and global warming cause ocean levels to rise, submerging coastlines. On the Eastern seaboard, water covers areas of Long Island and New Jersey and turns Baltimore into a swamp. On the West coast, the Pacific floods the city of Seattle and encroaches on a huge portion of the Oregon coastline.

Two volcanoes, Mt. Rainier and Mt. Baker, suddenly erupt, blanketing the entire Pacific Northwest with ash and causing additional crop failures.

Continuous earthquake activity rocks the area between San Francisco and Los Angeles. In the summers, fires and high winds also assault southern California, causing economic collapse. Much of the water supply becomes severely polluted.

PHASE 2:

GLOBAL WARMING raises ocean waters another 200 feet and leaves Washington state's Olympic Peninsula as a freestanding island.

The Great Lakes rise by 100 to 125 feet.

Continuing earthquakes reshape California, forming a huge bay on the Pacific with inlets reaching the foothills of the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

San Francisco and L.A. are completely swallowed by the Pacific Ocean.

The Mississippi and Missouri rivers flood, as do the tributary rivers extending into Montana, North and South Dakota. Widespread earthquake activity helps to carve out a huge bay in Texas that empties into the Gulf of Mexico and stretches all the way into Arkansas. Houston is left completely under water.

Sections of Pennsylvania and New York have become islands, while Baltimore is now submerged.

Everywhere east of the Appalachian Mountains is severely affected by high winds and flooding, with North and South Carolina breaking apart into dozens of small islands.

To make matters worse, a floating glacier crashes into the coast of Maine and settles there, bringing blistering cold.

PHASE 3:

THE GLACIER TRANSFORMS the state of Maine into a giant ice-cap. Much of this area becomes uninhabitable.

Adding to the problem is a shift in the Earth's magnetic poles. Among other frightening effects, this produces winds exceeding 900 miles per hour.

Wind and rain continually pelt the Eastern seaboard, leaving Philadelphia and New York City sunken cities. The new East Coast runs through Pittsburgh.

Rising ocean waters transform Dallas into a seaport city.

Most of California is under water now as well, with the Sierra Nevada Mountains left as an island.

A horrific earthquake turns Arkansas and the Mississippi River basin into a huge ocean bay.

By now, isolated regions, cut off from food and supplies, begin to fend for themselves.

"They will establish five governments across the United States, each of them selecting the best laws

WARNS:

PHASE 4:

MAP 4

CONTINUOUS RAINS put more and more of the Northeast under water, while deep crevices and fjords emerge on the new Pacific coastline, located in Idaho. Hurricane-force winds bombard this new beach area.

Most of California is now submerged, except for a few high places such as Mount Shasta. That location, however, becomes uninhabitable due to volcanic activity.

In New Mexico, underground caverns filled with natural gas explode, creating a terrifying fire zone in the Southwest. The deadly super-inferno scorches land all the way to Texas and Arizona.

At this time, an asteroid becomes trapped by Earth's gravity and begins to orbit, making it appear for some time that our planet has two moons. This creates a tremendous tidal pull, and a huge amount of water is hauled north through the giant bay which now splits America, bringing the bay all the way up to Bismarck, North Dakota.

Lake Erie and Lake Ontario overflow, flooding Pennsylvania and turning Pittsburgh into another new coastal city.

By now spring and fall no longer exist. "One day is hot, the next is cold," Mrs. Toye writes.

MAP 5

LIFE AS WE KNOW IT WILL END!

PHASE 5:

THE ASTEROID that has been orbiting Earth finally crashes into the Nevada desert, wreaking havoc.

Meanwhile, Lake Michigan overflows, sending a tidal wave rushing over the Midwest. Many Midwestern towns are flooded with 80 feet of water, making them uninhabitable for decades.

Because of the still-rising Atlantic, the nation's capital has been moved to the state of Colorado.

Maine remains covered in glacial ice gin to look up in the rest of America, according to Mrs. Toye. Those new islands off the East Coast will become a beautiful paradise much like the Garden of Eden, she writes.

"It becomes a new vacation land for many. Within 600 to 700 years, new plants and animals begin to populate the lush forests that cover much of the Eastern United States.

"It becomes as the garden it once was. "The pollution of industrialization is al-

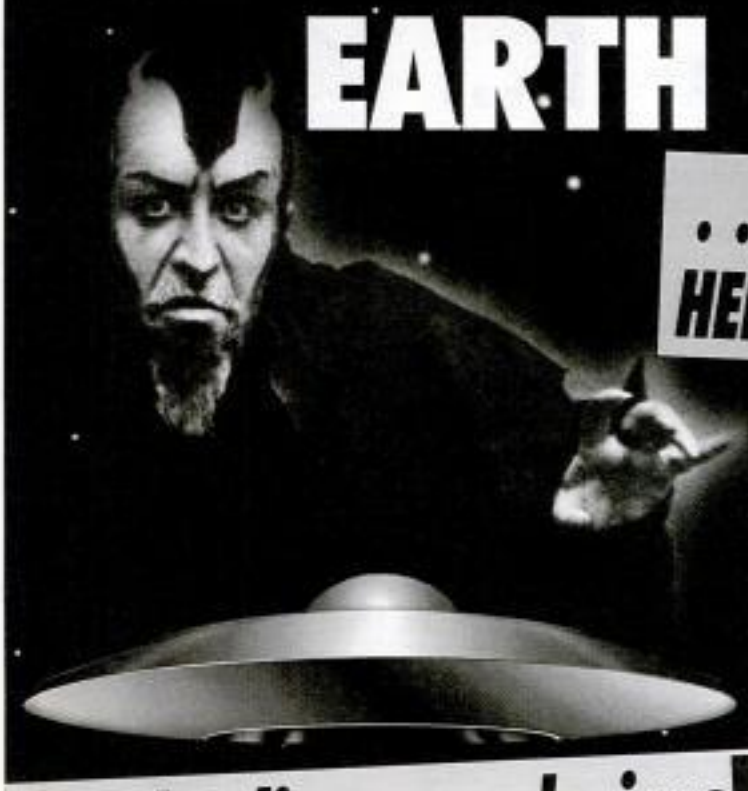
UFOS SENT TO EARTH BY SATAN



. . . FROM THE BOWELS OF HELL, SAYS LEADING EXPERT

By MIKE FOSTER / Weekly World News

So-called "aliens" do not really come from deep space, as commonly believed. They are actually demons sent by Satan from the bowels of Hell!

That is the startling contention of a leading theologian who has studied hundreds of modern reports of UFO abductions as well as accounts of demon attacks dating back to the Middle Ages.

"The similarities are so strong and so plentiful that we must conclude that aliens and demons are one and the same," declared Professor Victor Braunschweig of Dusseldorf, Germany.

Demons, as described by medieval witnesses, are grayish-green in complexion, with pointy ears, cold black eyes and reptilian skin — just like the "aliens" seen by modern-day witnesses. People in olden times often said that demons appeared at their bedsides at night, kidnapped them and forced them to fly among the stars — just as in accounts by UFO abductees.

And "aliens" are notorious for sexually assaulting female captives, just like a demon known as an incubus.

The assaults prove the mysterious beings are demonic, not extraterrestrial, the expert says.

"The idea of space aliens raping Earth women makes no scientific sense whatsoever," observed Prof. Braunschweig.

"Beings who evolved on another planet would have no interest in having sex with a human female — just as an alligator or a spider would have no such desire.

"On the other hand, a demon sent by Satan would be seething with lust and hatred for humans." Space aliens with men, extracting sperm. "That corresponds to a demon known as a succubus, which tempts males," says the expert. "According to legend, a succubus is simply an incubus in another form."

Many female abductees report having been impregnated by their captors.

"This is quite consistent with the reports of medieval demonologists, who wrote of strange beings spawned by the interbreeding of humans and demons," said Prof. Braunschweig.

Newly discovered virus IMPROVES your I.Q.!

Dr. Elimund

ATLANTA, Ga. — Physicians in seven states are reporting the emergence of a little-understood virus that seems to improve victims' intelligence — as much as 100 I.Q. points in some cases!

By RANDY JEFFRIES
Weekly World News

A spokesman for the Centers For Disease Control says details are sketchy at this time, but here is what is known so far:

- 128 people have been diagnosed with a previously unknown viral disease that affects the brain, heart and nervous system.
- Cases have been reported in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Maine, New Hampshire, Virginia and Maryland.
- The symptoms are a low fever, a dry cough, sore familiar with the still-unnamed virus say the physical symptoms disappear after a few days but, amazingly, the improved intelligence appears to be permanent.

Noted immunologist Dr. Thomas Elimund, who has treated nine of the cases here in Atlanta, says the change is clear and dramatic.

"One woman, an elderly housewife with no background in linguistics, learned student who was failing algebra, got the third-highest grade in his class a week after contracting the virus."

While Dr. Elimund believes there is little doubt that patients' intelligence is improved, only 19 of them actually received before-and-after I.Q. tests.

The I.Q. of the tested subjects improved an average of 32 points, and the greatest improvement was 105.

But the small number of cases lead some skeptical researchers to call the evidence "anecdotal."

"I believe a great deal more testing has to be done before we can actually say this virus increases intelligence," said

If your hair doesn't grow fast enough...

Every woman who dreams of a long, full head of hair reaching down to her waist can get a bottle of Capilong PSB/33 – imported directly from France – worth $19.95 FOR FREE, but you must return the coupon below BEFORE midnight, March 12, 1999.

Developed by a French scientist following the discovery of a new growth molecule, this capillary treatment immediately encourages rapid growth. And produces an amazingly full head of hair. Proven results.

- Even if your hair barely grows at all right now...
- Even if your hair is fine and brittle...
- Even if you have already tried all sorts of lotions...

"It's fantastic to have a beautiful head of hair, particularly when I never thought it would be possible."

Perhaps you have wondered why your hair is so fine and brittle? Why it doesn't naturally grow on its own to lengths of 20, 25, even 30 inches – like you've seen on other women?

The answer is: simply because your scalp lacks the nutritive substances for your hair roots to grow normally.

■ Scientifically proven

If your hair roots wither, your hair splits and growth is sparse. That's why you don't get the long flowing hair you want. Capilong PSB/33 now lets you remedy this deficiency.

1 Capilong PSB/33 frees clogged roots and nourishes each root with a powerful growth molecule.

2 This molecule feeds each root the same way fertilizer feeds a plant, and helps your hair grow faster.

■ Fast Results

You'll see your hair is thicker and fuller the very first week. In 2 or 3 weeks, you'll be able to measure your hair and see how much longer it's grown. Your friends, family, fellow workers, and everyone you meet will be impressed by this growth.

Moreover, Capilong PSB/33 contains the 100% natural protein compound called Nutrilans – to immediately make your hair richer, healthier, silkier and much fuller.

■ How to use Capilong

With the applicator provided, place 15 drops of Capilong PSB/33 on your scalp every night before sleeping. Then softly massage it in. Hair specialists recommend you rub your hair much more gently than you would rub skin. Just place your fingers on your scalp and ease your scalp back and forth in small brisk motions, to stimulate blood flow. Accompanying instructions explain this simple process step by step.

When he saw my hair grow 1½ inches in a month (and virtually double in volume) my hairdresser couldn't believe his eyes

"Last May, my best friend returned from Brazil. 'Try this on your hair,' she said. 'It will make it grow a couple of inches within two months.' And she gave me a bottle labelled Capilong PSB/33.

"I said: 'Don't believe in miracles.' She smiled and answered: 'I used to be like you. But look at my hair. It got this long and thick in just one month. Anyway, what can you lose just by trying?'

"I said: 'OK!' But what happened next was incredible.

"At the end of the month, I couldn't believe it. My hair was far longer (1½ inches more than it had been before), its volume had almost doubled. It was stronger. It was no longer brittle. When I brushed, my hair didn't come out like it had before.

"I completed the treatment 2 months ago. My hair is the length I like now. It is so full I hardly ever go to my hairdresser any more. I wash and dry it... and that's all!

"When my hairdresser saw me again, he could hardly believe his eyes. He said: 'I've been working in the best salons for 11 years, but I've never seen anything like this. What did you do to get such beautiful hair?'

"Now people stop and stare at me as I walk through the streets. Many ask me what I did to have such beautiful hair.
